

Tom's Daily

Fri. 10 May, 2013 – Bruges

REPORTER REPORTING

A lot has been going on yesterday in all divisions. The cards have been played, and second pool phase will begin today. A short overview could be helpful!

We're happy to spare you from the trip to the scoreboards (if you didn't find this gazette right underneath it.)

Open1 division turns out quite different than expected. Several pools had some unexpected upsets. Belgian champs and runner-ups, Mooncatchers and Gentle Open take the first place in their pool after (spectacularly) beating respectively FAB and CUSB La Fotta. No harm done, though: the two teams also continue into the power pools but are these Belgian teams on a roll? Let's see that today! In pool A, Iznogood take the win over Freespeed but end up second in a triangle with pool winners Frühspor 02. Ragnarok seems the only one who can confirm their status as favourite, because Cobra Kai had to leave first place to Tchac 44. Friselis takes first place in pool F over Germany U23, although a triangle really made it hard to tell who was the real favourite.

In Open2 division the initial seedings seem to be confirmed as far as Blue Arse Flies, Breizh United and Sun is concerned. They all take victory in their pools. The Belgian team Slijpschijven almost held Sun from three victories with 6-7. Both teams traded points up until 6-6, but finally after having scored only two upwind breaks each, the French managed to take the game and the number one spot in pool I. Former winners of the Open2 division Diabolic Heaven take the victory in Pool J after beating second placed Revolution'Air.

In the ladies division, both pools advance according initial seedings: in pool M, both Yaka and TILT have three victories, but they still have play each other, and Yaka still had to play the third in line: Nice Bristols. So there is still a lot possible in pool M. In pool N, CUSB Shout and German U23 ladies are looking strong. They are almost sure of the upper brackets, but they still have to face each other tomorrow. Game to watch!

WHERE TO WATCH?

We hope you enjoyed the games yesterday! And guess what? There are many more games to be played today! Check this out!

10.30h. F1: Tchac 44 - FAB
12.30h. F3: Mooncatchers - Freespeed
15.30h. F9: Gentle Open – Ragnarok
13.30h. F6: Yaka – Tilt
13.30h. F2: CUSB Shout – German U23
11.30h. F7: CUSB 051 – Breizh United

FUN FACTS!

You drank 125 litres of Brugse Zot at the opening night, Wednesday. Can we break last year's record of 1000 litres? We're sure you can!

HERMAN'S HAIKUS

Disc resembles bird.
They fly graciously, but they are dead when smacked down.

Tomtom to the party!

The legendary walk to the party. Not as far as the party in Rimini, but still further than from your tents to the big tent. For the new faces, it might look quite a hike, though after the reception you won't even remember going there, and after the party, you won't even remember going back! Check the helpdesk today when you really don't want to get lost.

HIGH FIVE!

Obviously, you all know your hand signals. We thought that the set provided by the WFDF was insufficient to be able to enjoy Tom's Tourney to its utmost. Luckily for you, we're still here to help you out!

1. the little finger: you're at the bar and you want to order a beer, use this sign :

2. You want a special beer, you use the beer signal, but you add:

3. We like it if you buy beers for your pals, and they like that too! Ordering three beers would look like this:

Ordering three special beers then evidently looks like this:

4. You might have more than three friends, though. Use this for thirty beers:

5. Don't confuse it with the signal for 'I'll down three beers right now':

IT'S JUST A BREEZE

We might have a bit of everything, today. Sunny periods and showers, a lot of clouds, quite some wind. Just realise that this is common in Belgium. Enjoy it like a touristic attraction. It's just as much fun as the holy blood procession!

WE HOPE YOU LIKED THE SHOW

